IS IT ENLIGHTEN UP OR LIGHTEN UP?

I'm beginning to think they are one and the same. I've been on an interesting roll the past week...well actually a lifetime. I think it started Sunday when I said Roly Poly for the Holy Rollers... nearly killed my husband he laughed so hard. Then I walked out of the movie theater and walked into another theater thinking it was the ladies room and stood there while my brain recalibrated. Next, I got out of the car and almost locked it with the keys still in it and the engine running!! But the best was last night I was trying to repair a fingernail with super glue when David called on my cell phone... the lights in the Choir Room wouldn't come on and he wanted to know if I knew what to do and then his landline at home started ringing and I thought it was probably a choir member asking about practice and then I realized that I had super glued two fingers together and reached for the nail polish remover and spilled the entire bottle...thankfully in the sink. This all happened in the same moment. When it was all over (my fingers are still covered with super glue but not stuck together)... I thought I really like being me. I may be insane but by golly I'm fun!!!

Being able to laugh at oneself is a gift. If we are not having fun in the midst of our insanity... we are missing a great ride! Do we do what we do and then worry about what will happen because of what we are doing? If what we are doing feels good, then tomorrow will take care of itself. We live in an older house and it is following the design of all materiality. It is getting older and cranky. When the roof isn't repaired, it tells us so. When the plumbing needs to be redone, it tells us so. One could worry about the outpouring of money that goes into caring for an older home.

Question: Would it be righter to let the old home fall into despair and we lose the investment and the love it has for us? Or, are we so afraid that the money we now have to take care of it will not be replenished that we make a wronger choice?

Don't be afraid of shadows. We are an interesting breed. We are afraid of the dark... yet shadows to not thrive in the dark. And, we are afraid of the Light because we are afraid of the shadows that seem to appear. So where are we safe? Where is the fun? I'll leave it with you for only you can answer the question.

Always I shall love you, Margie Ann

MY WAY OR THE HIGHWAY

It's an attitude that we've all encountered during a lifetime, especially if the person we work with is our "boss". However, that is His problem and the consequences will eventually be His. But, in our own private life, in our relationships with others, we can recognize and avoid the same pattern. A strong "Will" is a strong two-edged sword and can be used in wonderful ways to propel us on our journey throughout Life. (For some, it begins with the Energy that propels us out of bed in the morning.) When we come from Pure Love, we are on the right track and are in tune with the powers of the Universe, The Lord's Prayer that we pray every Sunday... "Thy Will Be Done On Earth" (Earth also meaning Me), "As It Is In Heaven" is a powerful statement!!

- Question:
- (1) Do we truly believe that God wants all good things to be ours?
  - (2) Is our trust in the Love of our God one hundred percent?
  - (3) Are our Basic Motives in our interaction with our fellow man coming from Love or does Ego creep in?

Exercise: Stand in front of a mirror (stark naked) and ask these questions of the person looking back at you.

Be honest, it might be interesting!!

Love to you and yours, Rev. Jody Lechner

Sir Walter Scott once said, "Success or failure in any undertaking is caused by the mental attitude even more than by mental capacities." In thirty days you can change your little world, your sales record, your environment, by a simple method. For thirty days, treat every person you meet without exception, as the most important person on earth. You will find that they will begin treating you the same.

A silent partner in our ministry

Margrethe Loomis has been housebound for several years. She continues to serve as the Greeter Coordinator. She contacts the Greeters each week and makes sure that someone is at the front door to pass out the bulletins and to ensure that each person who comes through the door receives a smile of welcome. Margrethe has an attitude that overcomes all maladies. When we speak on the phone we laugh and have a great time.
We love you and we appreciate you, Margrethe.
